

Newsletter: Happy New Year from Search Guard

Claudia Kressin · 2023-01-25

Dear friends,

we wanted to take the chance to say a quick hello as we all settle into the new year. 2022 was a busy year for us and we want to share some important links and updates in case you missed them as well as some insight into our 2023 plans!

Search Guard FLX We spent a lot of last year working on the next generation of Search Guard which will take configuration, performance and versatility to the next level: Search Guard FLX.

Explore the new command line tool here, read about handling configuration variables in Search Guard FLX and we also have a blog post demonstrating how to set up Kibana with multiple authentication types. There are also videos to show Search Guard FLX in action!

FLX 1.1.0 is now available!

floragunn Turned 10 A big celebration last year was floragunn (the company behind Search Guard) turning 10! It has been a super exciting journey with many ups and downs, but thankfully, more ups overall. We steadily grew the company from a small startup into a proper organization that provides value and supports customers worldwide. To celebrate, we took the liberty to blog about the journey and shared it so everyone may read the floragunn story.

2023: The Year of Adventure

At the moment we are working on improvements to Signals, our free and Open Source Alerting Solution for Elasticsearch. We will attend the Netways OSMC conference in the Autumn and hope to attend more in person conferences throughout the year. We are committed to the community and want to make the best products we can. Is there something you need Please tell us!

Thank you for joining us on this adventure! If you would like to say hello and have any questions or comments please contact us. We are always happy to hear from you, so if you have any questions or concerns regarding any versions of Search Guard please reach out!

Happy New Year from your Search Guard team. We hope you're having a great start to 2023!
